

Skills for Healthy Relationships

A funded offer for primary schools in Lancashire, tackling the issues arising from the sharing of online images.

A new film and supporting lessons allow pupils to focus on the pressure they might feel to share images and the consequences if they do. Pupils will explore issues about consent and practice refusal and resistance skills

The programme includes a number of role-play activities designed to enable pupils to rehearse positive communication strategies.

New for 2023

Theatre practitioners provide step by step instructions, demonstrating how forum theatre can be used in your classroom. This evidence-based approach is delivering positive results in schools across Merseyside:

“The best safeguarding training that I have ever had”

Kath Clarke, The District primary School, St Helens

Teacher training workshops

Theatre practitioners at Ariel Trust are offering training to teachers who are working with children on the development of skill required to refuse and resist the pressure to share inappropriate images online

To register interest

Contact paul@arieltrust.com

